Patric Salomon is the Managing Director of enablingMNT GmbH (Germany). He has an Engineering Degree in Microelectronics from the Berlin Institute of Technology. His focus is on all aspects of marketing and strategy support for the MNT dependant industry. This includes: Business Strategy Consulting, Project Management, Strategic Marketing, Marketing Communications, Sales/Partner Network Development, Market Research, Outsourcing of Manufacturing/Technology, and (in the past) Publication of enablingMNT Industry Reports. Patric has been involved in Technology Roadmapping in MNT through various EC projects and his main interest is now on medical applications of MNT, moving research results into clinical application by facilitating joint efforts of clinicians, patient organisations, technology providers, commercial manufacturers, healthcare providers, and regulator / policy makers. Patric has close links to MEMS Industry Group (US), MANCEF, and IVAM (EU); he is regularly invited to evaluate/review EU funding proposals/projects on behalf of the European Commission.
